Toilet outside Towson courthouse creates bomb scare

By Yeganeh June Torbati THE BALTIMORE SUN

Part of central Towson came to a standstill Monday morning — for a toilet.

The porcelain toilet — festooned with newspaper clippings, an electronic transmitter and a cell phone — was left outside the historic Baltimore County courthouse about 8 a.m., triggering a police reaction that included a bomb-sniffing dog and a small robot.

Workers from nearby businesses streamed out to watch as police closed nearby streets, including the 400 block of Washington Ave., near the intersection with Pennsylvania Avenue.

Michael Minervini, who works at the M&T Bank branch on Washington Avenue, said employees were confused and worried as they watched police investigate the package and the robot approach the toilet. "Certainly, any time you put a mysterious package or item or whatever around a government building, you're See TOLET, page 12

BALTIMORE COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS INTRA-DEPARTMENT CORRESPONDENCE

DATE:

April 12, 2011

TO:

Duane G. Davis, Sr., #391806

2C-13-Lower

FROM:

James P. O'Neill

Director

SUBJECT:

Complaints

Pursuant to your numerous complaints that you have recently filed, please be advised I will attempt to answer your concerns. I must reiterate that there are no papers in your property that you have not already received. You are not entitled to see a court order to effect your transfer to Spring Grove, and you were returned here when Spring Grove staff thought it was appropriate.

Any media interviews with pre-trial inmates are subject to approval from your legal counsel, so these sessions will not be approved until I hear from your counsel.

As a correctional entity, we had nothing to do with the charges that brought you to this institution. You are certainly entitled to write a book while in here and make movies upon your release, but while you are here, you are entitled to the same privileges and restrictions that other inmates have. The classification counselor assigned to 2C can assist you with some light social work duties, but your charges, T.V. interviews, whistle blower status, Spring Grove treatment, etc., and other issues not related to your incarceration here will not be addressed.

Good luck during the remainder of your stay. Hopefully, this correspondence will clarify our role, as with a population of 1400 inmates, we will not be able to continue a weekly dialogue.

Duane Davis Professor Hannah Black Reality 106-100-003

Within the Penitentiary,
Blacks have created an Extension
Of the Ghetto

In today's fast and highly technical society, there are many movements on the horizon that lead us to focus on equality for different groups that make up society. In dealing with the issue of equality, Black Nationalism can and should be used to offset the powers of domination within the capitalist society. The key to the success of the black struggle must, in my opinion, be centered on the use of mass movement to achieve equality.

Mass movement, from my interpretation, is the pulling together of people of the same nationality, political ideas, economical status and similar social values. A national consciousness must also arise from within the movement in order to strengthen the community, the black community in particular. Total involvement from all of the different classes of blacks is needed. We also need to strengthen bonds and alliances with other oppressed people within the U.S. and abroad. As Afro-Americans, we cannot negate our responsibility to our African brothers and sisters. Our struggle is that of the two worlds mentioned.

Capitalism is the main force in the oppression of Afro-Americans.

The subjugation of Afro-Americans is the key to success of capitalism.

Black labor and other oppressed laborers within the U.S. have been exploited for centuries. These exploited workers would be the best fighters for a new nationalism. They are concentrated in the major industrial and urban centers on which the entire economy rests.

Therefore, they possess the power to break the holds of capitalism. However, this has not happened because of the capitalists ability to create a division within the exploited labor market. As long as the persistent conflicts continue, unification will be unattainable.

Black Nationalism would require that Afro-Americans have complete control over their economics, politics, culture, education, and every other sphere the influence within the black community. 1 This would create security for the black nation within America and also constitute a power base to uniformly dilute the power structure of capitalism. To dilute the power structure, blacks would also have to become self-sufficient in the market place, produce and consume products within their community and refuse to purchase and patronize white establishments. The end result putting the revenue back into their own community. This would stem chaos amongst the capitalist society. Capitalists' would then be stuck with unmarketable goods.

With the establishment of this type of power base, blacks could create a national black consciousness, thus setting into motion the framework needed to produce a mass movement. Mass movements and the unification of oppressed races, is the biggest fear of the capitalist society. If the oppressed races become unified, they could create a very unique and solid workforce to bargain for more concessions within th workplace. They would need not fear the use of strike breakers because they would not exist. This unification could also be to their advantage within the economic sphere, by forming a new dollar power.

For the Capitalist to overcome their fears of such a reality, the capitalist society would either have to destroy or assassinate the leaders of these movements. This has been the case in the past.

First we saw the deportation of Marcus Garvey. Garvey envisioned a mass exodus of Black Americans back to Africa. This move would have established America and disrupted the labor market. One must realize that a mass exodus would not only have taken away the black people in the labor market, but also the black dollars from American banks, thus being redirected into African banks. It would also take away black money in the market place because the movement supported self- sufficiency. Capitalist would be stuck with goods and a disproportionate market.

Then there was the murder of Malcolm X. Malcolm was a militant Black Muslim that wanted nothing to do with white society. He advocated the use of force to insure his constitutional and civil rights. He was a threat to the capitalist society because he could not be controlled or bribed by them. He had the ability to use the mass movement to insure the success of his movement directed at the separatism, with his condolence for the use of violence. This was seen as a revolution that was bound to destroy the imperial and capitalistic structure within America. We have been without revolution for almost 100 years, and Malcolm X was on the verge to start one.

Another example is the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. was a civil rights advocate that stressed non-violence as a means to gain civil, political and economic equality. His ability to use the mass movement is unparalleled by any other social reformist in American history. Capitalist feared him because he had the ability to amass all American oppressed citizens; black, white, Asian, Puerto Ricans, and Native Americans. This created a political ability to have mass numbers of people to boycott business establishments and consumer service centers, threatened the economic base of capitalism. He had the ability to flood a market or collapse it. His death was the lose of the black movement in America, but the joy of capitalism within American society.

As a result of each of these events, the black struggle was stifled.

Lost and left to wonder in time, and submit ourselves to economic, social, and political exploitation. I feel that if another leader of the mass movement would arise today, his death would destroy America, capitalism and all else along with it. Blacks are tried of having their leaders killed and their dreams of equality killed with them. If this happened, I feel that there would be a national revolt not oly in the black community but also in the work place within social institutions such as schools, police departments, etc. There would be no limit to the turmoil that would be created from the death of another leader.

Racism is another obstacle that black nationalism has to overcome in order to become the savior of the oppressed masses within this nation. The racist oppressions of black, Chicanos, Puerto Ricans, Mexicans, Asians, and Native Americans, as nationalist, is rooted in the political economic and social structures of U.S. capitalism. The racist ideology flowing from concrete racists oppressions is so important to the ongoing struggle against capitalism and that the end to capitalism is necessary to deal the final lethal blow to racism.

Black nationalism is geared toward the struggle against racism.

Racism is as old as America itself. One can call it an institution. In my opinion, racism is childish and idiotic. I see no reason to dislike someone because of the color of their skin or the native language they may speak.

I feel that the dislike comes from the individuals inability to love.

If we as black people expect black nationalism to work for everyone, white people in this country must be willing to accept black leadership. Black leadership is needed to insure that black peoples' rights are protected. Racism still exists, but blacks need the right to protect themselves from the racists attacks bore upon them.

In view of Black Nationalism, we cannot ignore the affect of

Keservist wins job bias case

Justices extend reach of U.S. discrimination laws

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court on Tuesday extended the reach of the federal laws against job discrimination, ruling that employees are protected from illegal bias not just from a top decision maker, but from other supervisors as well.

The justices said the crucial issue is whether illegal bias was a "motivating factor" in the decision to fire an employee. Companies and public agencies are not shielded from liability, they said, simply because the supervisor who made the decision to fire a worker did so for valid reasons.

"An employer's authority to reward, punish or dismiss is often allocated among multiple agents," said Justice Antonin Scalia

The decision restores a $57,640 jury verdict for Vincent Staub, an Army reservist fired as a medical technician at Proctor Hospital in Peoria, Ill. He contended two supervisors were biased because he was

They said he put a "strain on the department," and others had "to bend over backward to cover" for him.

The complaints reached the hospital's vice president for human resources. She looked into comments that Staub was "abrupt" with others and was sometimes missing from his work location. She decided to dismiss him.

Staub sued, relying on a law that forbids discrimination against employees because of their military duties. The U.S. 7th Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago threw out the verdict. Then-U.S. Solicitor General Elena Kagan had urged the court to adopt the broader interpretation of the workplace discrimination laws. They did so 8-0, with Kagan not participating.

Also Tuesday, the justices heard arguments in a closely watched case involving child-abuse investigations at school, taking sharp exception to the notion that a search warrant or a parent's consent is required before a child can be questioned by a child care worker or a police officer.

Dear Gov O'Malley

I hope this letter reaches you. This is my 3rd attempt to be heard. You answered my 1st letter in Nov. of 2006. I was going to hold an auction to raise money to start a non-profit organization in Baltimore. Remember "GET SHORTY" I have a response letter from you encouraging my contribution to the community. I showed you various individuals of which I have worked for and help raise hundreds of thousands of dollar within the state of Maryland. John Hopkins ,Johnny Unitas, Pets on Wheels, Heart Feast, just to name a few. I also have a letter from David Irwin I know you know him. Also enclosed in this letter are copies of letters from various members of the Con. and Sen. from Maryland and Illinois. So please take this letter seriously this is an important issue to the people in the inner City of Baltimore and the Ghettos across this nation.

The issue of Equal Protection under the law and numerous other civil and constitutional right are routinely and constantly denied. Ask your fellow Gov. of Louisiana about the Jena 6 Project or the rape and torture of the Black woman in West Virginia. Our government is failing to protect its underclass and poor. Baltimore City has one of the Highest murder rates in America. This is Genocide right in our face and nobody is trying to stop it. The News Media only in flames the negative stereotype of the black male figure. Just look at the description Geraldo used to describe the O.J ordeal.

This letter is written for you to come to my defense. You can consider me the Dreed Scott decision of 2007.I want to know if I am a Free Black Man in America. Maryland is the Free State and Illinois is the Slavery State. This is a true story and a Judicial and Legislative Littness test. We the people are not getting the benefits or protection of which or Constitution was created. WE the people, for the people, by the people. We people in the Ghetto have been excluded from these protections and equal justice. Always if not often guilty before the trial. And ear marked for the Dept of Correction. Where do we fit in? America is celebrating 400 years.

I am a tax paying citizen and a Pillar of my community. I deserve better treatment from my government. I pay over $30,000 a year in taxes,

Who will be the losers

Some local and state politicians want to stop putting official notices in local newspapers and instead post them on their own websites. But what about the people who don't have Internet access, or just don't want to use the Internet? According to the U.S. Census Bureau:

Only 35% of Americans over the age of 65 use the Internet.
Only 42% of Hispanics use it.
Only 50% of African Americans use it.

If you don't use the Internet, how will you find out what the government is doing? Do politicians have something to hide from you?

Politicians like to talk about transparency, but some are proposing an idea that would make it harder for citizens to find out what government is doing. Public notices let you learn about important issues – such as a hearing on a road widening, a new trash transfer station or a new jail. If you want to keep legal notices in newspapers where they belong, contact the Maryland-

Delaware-D.C. Press Association at citizen@mddcpress.com, or call 410-721-4000 ext 12 and leave a message.

but the State of Illinois has taken my right to vote away from me for over 20 years. This is a violation of The Bill of Rights Taxation without representation. Since you are my Governor you are the man I need to resolve this issue. Between you and the Governor of Illinois this shouldn't be a problem for long. I am making a Documentary. You can ask Mr. Cardin. He has offered help, but declined to appear on my video. Now I am at your front door. If you choose to ignore me I plan on putting any future taxes in escrow until or unless the clarity of my social status is cleared up. Then I'm going to attempt to encourage all Americans not to pay their taxes and put it in escrow until or Government does right for its entire people. We have become a class cast type of society. We have lost our Democracy. I'm here to expose the system for what it has become. And remind you where we came from. Where do we fit in this CELEBRATION?

I hope to hear from you this is going to become very public your response is required but not needed. You inactions will only give validity to the obvious. Your actions on my behalf will show Democracy has a glimmer of hope. I am my brothers Keeper. Are you? Enclosed are people that believe in my struggle. They are the voters that back me. You know some of these people personally. They have contributed to you campaigned. So have I. Go to Shorty_9@yahoo.com. This is our story. The Ghetto needs to be heard. Shorty is here to say what needs to be said and do what needs to be done. Martin showed me how. Malcolm gave the inspiration. The Constitution gives me the RIGHT. I am asking you for my FREEDOM. If not deport me. Marcus Garvey gave the direction. This is not a Dream. This is a 400 year celebration please tell me where the Ghetto fits in?

Shorty's

Self-help Organization for the Redevelopment/Re-education of the Young.

This is not a Black Plan. This is an all inclusive racial movement. I am attempting to stir our social consciousness to the degree of creating postive actions in our communities and nation. The main focus of my program is to teach the young social, economic, political, medical and environmental responsibility. These tools can make them more prepared for life. Times have changed; our children are exposed to more of life than they deserve to see. In some cases they become life's victims. Someone needs to attempt to create a life bridge for their future.

This is my plan...and ours.

Social: Life skills through interaction with other cultures so they can realize that color is the only difference between the races. Racism is taught. It is not in your DNA. Religious and cultural interaction create young an dfresh ideas. Children are our future. A stronger and more knowledgeable foundation needs to be created. Bring about better housing and education with safer neighborhoods.

Economic: Develop skills that are marketable. Use their talent to the fullest. Give our youth a taste of life with a real job intership through the government and private sectors. From apple pickers to zoo keeper and all in-between. A patrnership with various working classes to lead them through the obstacles they have encounter along the way. Help them to develop financial intelligence. Have them create goals and then finish them.

Political: Create a mock government to mirror our own. This will enable them to better understand the process. Voter registration, shadowing various government officals from the city, state and US Congress/Senate when possible. Think of laws that affect their daily lives and set forth a process of change. Schools, penal systems, health care, etc. Put democracy to a test. Teach them organization.

Medical: Health Care. Some mental health counseling is needed for individuals dealing with inner city problems. Drugs, gangs, guns and death just to name a few. HIV awareness. Teenage pregnancy. Childcare services. Adult and child 24 hour care. We need the medical profession to donate time and services. Mentors are needed to encourage the youth to aspire to higher goals.

Environment: We need to start taking care of neighborhoods. Garage, waste, and pollution. Start awarness training to teach us the little things to help us make the big changes. Gain knowledge in Global Warming and the impact it will have in our lifetime. Not just our neighborhood, but also our ecosystem. Our food chain should be re-evaluated. Eating healthy and smart.

"All of us as Black Americans must realize that we are as bright as anyone else in the world. I want our children to be able to communicate with people all over the world. We must realize that poverty has nothing to do with the mind. It is about getting our children to think that they can. It's about exposure to the world."

Members are Needed

Ages 6 to 106. We need total involvement. The elderly can teach the young and the young can teach the elderly. Your past helps you on your path to the future. Forget your past and you are destined to be lost.

For any organization to exist or function, money is needed for its creation and existence. Members are the foundation for its growth success. Suggested dues are as follows:

Children's Donation (by grade) per Month

1st - 3.00		*		7th - 9.00
2nd - 4.00				8th - 10.00
3rd - 5.00			a.	9th - 11.00
4th - 6.00				10th - 12.00
5th - 7.00				11th - 13.00
6th - 8.00	F			12th - 14.00

Adult Donation per Month

18-21 / 20.00	39-42 / 45.00
22-25 / 25.00	43-46 / 50.00
26-29 / 30.00	47-50 / 55.00
30-33 / 35,00	51-54 / 60.00
34-38 / 40.00	55-64 / 65.00
65 and up / 25 00	-7.

The pledges are important. We need to have a monetary base. I would implore the federal, state, county and city levels of government to make matching funds available to support the programs needed to achieve the goals of SHORTY'S.

Also, we would tap into various foundations and companies that share our views, values and goals.

Education: Our goal is to make general and secondary education available to all. Involvement from the community and government is pivotal. Turn No Child Left Behind into a reality. Education is not just limited to the scholastic levels, but skilled trades and services.

We need to prepare our children to become adults - mentally, socially and physcially. The value of the dollar has been distorted. Living for today has to be turned into thoughts of tomorrow.

Dreams are needed to replace the nightmares our children deal with on a daily basis.

In a Facebook world, don't count on privacy

he American Civil Liberties Union Maryland of brings us the matter of Robert Collins, a 29-yearold corrections officer who says he was required to give up his Facebook password when he reapplied for his job after a leave of absence. He also says an investigator checked out his Facebook page and, oh my, what an egregious invasion of privacy that was. The ACLU complained to Maryland's secretary of public safety and told the press all about the Collins matter. Predictably, the public safety secretary, Gary Maynard, suspended the practice of asking job applicants for Facebook passwords and called for a review of the matter.

In an official statement, the Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services denied that it demands social media information from applicants. "If an applicant does not provide this information, it is not held against them and the interview process moves forward," the statement said.

But in a letter to the ACLU, Mr. Maynard defended the practice as a means of rooting out the threat of gangs in state prisons.

That's a legitimate concern. Last summer, That's a regimnate contests by a federal grand jury for either belonging to the violent Black Guerrilla Family or helping the gang smuggle drugs and cell phones into Maryland prisons. Maryland, with more than 21,000 inmates in 24 prisons and pre-release centers, must ensure that the people it hires meet high levels of trust and do not pose security risks. Background checks have been standard practice for a long time.

But, of course, with every new age and every advance of technology comes a new realm of personal activity. There are two rele vant questions here: Where we draw the line between the employer's right to know and the prospective employee's right to privacy And, can there really be guaranteed privac in the cyberworld?

As any Facebooker who has tried t "friend" a stranger or old friend knows, yo can't get in the door unless they want yo there. So, unless Gary Maynard sent "friend request" to everyone who applied f a job at the Division of Correction—and th requested was granted — neither the pub safety secretary nor his investigators wou be able to see an applicant's social netwo That might explain why an investigator, hav ing been instructed to check Facebook pages of job applicants, asked Mr. Collins for his password.

The governors' speeches: rising to the challenge (in other states)

Marta H. Mossburg

yth may be the "kudzu of history," as Stacy Schiff writes in her 2010 biography, "Cleopatra: A Life." But truth matters — and the words that express it.

Actor Colin Firth just won an Oscar for portraying King George VI in "The King's Speech," a man who overcame a debilitating stutter to fulfill his duty to country during war.

Martin Luther King Jr.'s April 16, 1968, "Letter from a Birmingham Jail" passionately argued for equal justice under the law in simple, exact prose, igniting the civil rights movement and inspiring generations to create a more inclusive "City on a Hill."

"Mr. Gorbachev, open this gate! Mr. Gorbachev, tear down this wall!" will always echo in my mind when I think of President Ronald Reagan. Those living in Berlin on June 12, 1987, when he delivered that speech at the Brandenburg Gate, will not forget it. Two years later, the Berlin Wall opened, and it was destroyed altogether in 1990 with the collapse of communism.

To read and to listen to the words cited above is to be transported to a higher vision of self, state and country. They were conceived at moments not dissimilar to one we share now, plagued by great turmoil at home and abroad.

Great leaders arise, Phoenix-like, from the ashes in these times. Winston Churchill spent eight years in the wilderness before being called to lead England during World War II. Harriet Tubman, who was born a slave in Dorchester County in 1822 (and whose statue may soon grace the U.S. Capitol), risked her life in Civil War times to bring dozens of captives to freedom through the Underground Railroad, later leading the civil rights and women's suffrage movements.

Republicans hope for a president to appear in the clashes pitting public labor unions, taxpayers who fund their wages, benefits and political campaigns, and financial reali-

At the very least, they are getting rousing, visionary speeches, often delivered with verve. New Jersey Gov. Chris Christie verbally boxes with residents of his state, recording his rounds on YouTube. As he told one reporter, "Nobody in New Jersey is going to have to wonder where I am on an issue." Harley-riding Indiana Gov. Mitch Daniels recently delivered a speech at the Conservative Political Action Conference that commentator George Will described as an "elegant presentation of conservatism for grown-ups."

Tilked this line the best: "Our main task is not to see that people of great wealth add to it but that those without much money have a greater chance to earn some."

Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker talks to that state's residents as if he were lost in the woods, surrounded by members of his former Boy Scout troop. His words are plain and his tone optimistic, despite the circumstances. In his state of the state speech, he said, "During the present downturn, Wisconsin's proud tradition of responsible budgeting gave way to repeated raids on segregated funds, excessive borrowing for operations and an addiction to one-time federal dollars. These are no longer options, and their use has only delayed and worsened the difficult decisions we must now make. ... Each time it looked like we might falter and lose our way, we turned our back to our Constitution's call for frugality and moderation and marched forward.

His use of the word "forward" is probably the only common thread he shares with Gov. Martin O'Malley, whose greatness will be limited by his happy surrender of Maryland to the federal government. To return to "Cleopatra: A Life," Mr. O'Malley is one of the many forgettable client kings of Rome.

It shows in his speeches, which lobotomize instead of inspire. They are filled with vague calls to create "One Maryland" and rely on meaningless words and phrases, including "progress," "right choices" and "spurring innovation." In his state of the state speech this year, he told Marylanders, "The best option for our most important priorities is to defend them by level-funding them."

Really? It's deflating to copy those words. They reflect a man caught in the mire of politics, not one rising to history's prerogatives.

Worse, they help to delay making choices to resolve Maryland's ongoing budget deficit and obscure the logical outcome of his policies: chronically higher taxes. Ultimately, they will put Maryland on the sidelines of history as Messrs. Christie, Daniels and Walker rewrite it.

Foot patrolmen in Southeastern District being sent to Northeast

Shift in the force

To compensate for the arrest and suspension of officers in the Northeast District, officers from a special unit in the Southeast District were reassigned, sparking fears in the Southeast that a diminished police presence will mean an increase in crime.

Towing scheme had hidden cost in higher fees and premiums

By Peter Heynann THE BALTIMORE SUN

The alleged extortion scheme outlined by federal prosecutors this week seemed to benefit both auto accident victims, who avoided paying towing fees and insurance deductibles, and Baltimore police officers, who got kickbacks for making referrals to a car repair shop.

But insurance industry representatives warn that the money accident victims saved on the front end of this arrangement will be made up later with higher premiums. Inflated towing and storage fees are the second-most common type of fraudulent claim, according to the National Insurance Crime Bureau.

Insurance companies are "going to recapture their money from somewhere," said Frank Scafidi, a spokesman for the bureau, which conducts investigations for 1,100 insurance firms. He said the companies will recoup their losses "in the form of higher premiums See SCHEME, page 8

To compensate for the arrest or suspension of more than two dozen officers in an alleged towing company scam, Baltimore police will pull uniformed officers away from an initiative that contributed to a profound reduction in violent crime in the Southeastern District.

A team of mostly rookies hired with federal stimulus funds last year, which had been used for foot patrols in areas including downtown and a high-crime corridor in the Southeast, will be reassigned to squad cars in the Northeast, where a large number of the implicated city police officers worked.

Residents of the Southeast say they fear an uptick in violence because of the move, but police officials said the scope of the alleged fraud has left them little choice.

"The last thing the commissioner wanted to do was get rid of foot patrols. Part of improving our customer service rating is getting cops out of cars," said Anthony Guglielmi, the department's chief spokesman. "But we're not going to tolerate corruption. It if means we can't have a special unit to do foot posts temporarily, so be it."

Dishonoring the badge

Our view: The scandal involving police and a towing company is a blot on the integrity of the force; Bealefeld will need to work hard to restore public trust

n the confusing moments after an accident that disables your car, you're likely to welcome a police officer's offer of help. The last thing on your mind is that he or she is break-

On Wednesday, it became apparent that some Baltimore police officers have been secretly enriching themselves and the tow companies that paid them under the table for years — until this week, when city Police Commissioner Frederick H. Bealefeld III and Maryland U.S. Attorney Rod J. Rosenstein announced the arrest of 17 officers charged with taking kickbacks from a towing company that was not authorized to do business with the city. The arrests exposed an elaborate extortion scheme in which Majestic Auto Repair of Rosedale paid officers up to $300 for every vehicle they steered to the company.

The most disturbing thing about the indictments is the scope and brazenness of the alloged micconduct they revealed. So far, at least 30 officers have either been indicted or suspended as a result of a two-year investigation by the Baltimore City Police Department, the U.S. Attorney's Office and the FBI that began in 2009. If so many officers are suspected of directly cashing in on unsuspecting motorists, how many others in the department must have known what was going on and chose to ignore it rather than blow the whistle on their colleagues?

Commissioner Bealefeld and Mayor Stephanie Rawlings-Blake were right to denounce the conspirators' alleged wrongdoing as a blot on the integrity of the entire force. The public can't be expected to trust the police to uphold the law when the department's own members violate it so flagrantly If an unscrupulous tow truck company can bribe officers to illegally send business its way, what else are officers willing to do for the right price? The corruption breeds contempt for the vast majority of officers who work hard and do their jobs honestly Unfortunately, scandals involving devious tow company operators and city police officers are nothing new in Baltimore. Allegations of bribery and kickbacks aimed at prying exorbitant sums out of luckless motorists have dogged the city for decades. (Though it's not yet clear in this case whether the motorists came out financially worse for the wear.) Each time, calls for tightening supervisory and internal-security procedures at the police department to prevent such episodes from recurring went unheeded. And despite repeated changes in the law over the years regarding how the towing business is regulated, the problem has stubbornly persisted.

Mr. Bealefeld is to be commended for thinking hard about how to use this week's arrests to send an unmistakable message that no officer is above the law and that the kind of official malfeasance his officers are accused of will not be tolerated.

But he cannot let the matter end there. The wiretapped conversations between the officers — who called themselves the "untouchables group" — and Majestic Auto Repair owner Hernan Alexis Moreno Mejia showed them to be much more interested in lining their pockets than stopping crime. The FBI intercepted a series of text messages between Mr. Mejia and one of the officers, Jhonn S. Corona, as he was at the scene of a shooting and possible homicide. It's damaging enough to the department for people to wonder whether officers supposedly helping them at the scene of an accident are really working to enrich themselves. It's even worse if personal enrichment comes ahead of investigating crime.

Mr. Bealefeld's active cooperation in the federal case so farit actually started as a departmental investigation — suggests, that he will help in any way he can to assist in the prosecutions. Sending policemen who break the law to jail will send a powerful message. But in the meantime, Mr. Bealefeld needs to contin ue to make an example of these officers to the rest of the depart. ment so they — and the city as a whole — know that police officers' job is to serve the public, not themselves.

We can't handle the truth

The problem with WikiLeaks is that unvarnished honesty can sometimes be dangerous

By Matthew Oshan

hen I was a young man, I loved Møliere's "The Misanthrope." Alceste, the hero (or rather, come antihero) of the play, fed up with the artice and false manners of 17th century Paril resolves to tell everyone exactly what ie thinks, whether or not the truthtelling erves his own interests.

Which, of course, it never does, the lesson being that for people to get along and for society to function — one can't simply blurt out what one thinks without regard for the consequences.

This is true in all relationships, even the most intimate. We may count on our spouses to level with us when no one else will, but a certain amount of discretion is required to keep even happily married people from killing each other. "Honey, does this make me look fat?" is a question that no one really wants answered.

The Misanthrope" is a young man's play In the eyes of an adolescent, Alceste's rejection of the falsehood of the world — its "phoniness," as Holden Caulfield would call it three centuries later in "Catcher in the Rye" — is heroic, a refusal to buy into the hypocrisies of grown-up behavior. After all, these hypocrisies, which become second nature to us as we age, are coping strategies for dealing with fundamental imbalances of power.

Young people don't like to concede that the world is badly made. With the limitless energy of youth, they see imbalances and injustices as correctable.

Problem is, it just doesn't make sense to tell the boss he's being an idiot, any more than it does to answer "yes" to the fat question. And yet, bosses need to know when they're being foolish, and husbands need to know when their weight is unhealthy.

The answer to this seemingly intractable tug-of-war between untellable truth and need for honesty has been with us for millennia: diplomacy, the art of handling matters without arousing undue hostility. As an adult, I see the wisdom of diplomacy, but as a young man, I preferred to deliver doses of unburnished truth. Truth, like whiskey, was best served neat. The burning sensation that often followed was just the good stuff starting to do its work.

There's a great case to be made for truthtelling, particularly in a democracy, where citizets require the truth in order to act justly. But there are times when the unvarnished truth is ill-advised, harmful, even dangerous. Reporting the location of troops n wartime, for instance. Or exposing the "sausage-making" behind the scenes of international diplomacy.

I've been greatly troubled by the innovation represented by WikiLeaks, the organization that recently released hundreds of thousands of privileged diplomatic communiqués and documents relating to the Iraq and Afghanistan wars that the chattering widen shot WikiLeaks presents itself as a latter-day champion of the free press, the idea being that the world needs a secure venue for truth-tellers and whistle-blowers because traditional media have become as corrupt as the governments and institutions they're supposed to be reporting on.

True, corporate ownership and the entertainment-driven dumbing-down of many traditional news venues have blunted — and, in some cases, even neutered the media. Where will we get the truth, then, if not from the bloggers and leakers?

But WikiLeaks is not constrained by traditional editorial rules. Its founder, Julian Paul Assange, seems to have a deeper agenda than merely holding up a mirror of truth to society. There's a strong element of mischief in the man's background, as is anti-authority streak is deep. His worldview seems to be shaped by a disgust of governments and institutions, per se, not just bad governments and institutions.

Truth, in the form of mountains of unmediated, sensitive information, is his prescription for what ails the world. But Mr. Assange has been known to massage his sources just as carefully as any producer from the world of "traditional" media (for instance, the video from the Apache helicopter, which was carefully edited for maximum emotional impact).

There's a place for whistle-blowing. But there's also a place for diplomacy — purvate diplomacy. Robbing the world of this precious tool may be a victory for truth tellers, but it's a step backward for tle nations of man.

Time:	Lawsuit claimed officer had shocked man while he was handcuffed in April 2007  By Peter Hermann THE BALTIMORE SUN  A man who said a Baltimore police officer strip-searched him on a public street and used a Taser on him twice while he was in handcuffs has agreed to settle a civil suit he filed against the city and is being offered $95,000.  The settlement awaits approval by the Board of Estimates, the city's spending panel, which scheduled the item for Wednesday. The amount is listed in court records and on the Board of Estimates' agenda.  Donte T. Harris sued Officer Babatunda	QHCP Name (Printed):
	Orlsadelle after he was arrested in April 2007 while walking to a store on Woodbine Avenue in West Baltimore. He said officers stopped him to look for drugs, but none were found. He was charged with disorderly conduct and disobeying a police officer; prosecutors did not pursue either charge.  City Solicitor George Nilson said Harris resisted arrest by head-butting and kicking the officer, but he said police are now trained to avoid using a Taser "on someone in handcuffs." He also said the probable cause for the arrest "was soft here."  Nilson said in an e-mail that there were a "bunch of unseemly remarks back and forth" between Harris and Orlsadelle and that each offered a different version of the events.  "I don't want to dignify or seem to credit [the] plaintiff's version by repeating it," Nilson said. "I don't believe [the] plaintiff's	sngi2 IstiV

A police spokesman, Detective Donny Moses, said Orlsadelle is currently assigned to the Northern District but has been suspended with pay since August 2010 pending the outcome of an internal investigation.  Attorneys representing both the officer and Harris did not return phone calls seeking comment.  According to his lawsuit, Harris and a friend, Charles Williams, were stopped, searched and put into the back of a police car in handcuffs. The officers told them the charge was for loitering. They called a police wagon to take the two men to Central Booking for processing.  It was then that Orlsadelle took Harris out of the car and patted him down, as is customary before putting a suspect in the	Any Inmate choosing to as insufficient funds is all Requests will be commate Signature:

In the suit, Harris said he responded, "Hey, man, you ain't supposed to be doing that." He said the officer grabbed harder, causing him to step back in pain. He said the officer repeatedly asked him, "Do you have anything on you?" and then lifted up Harris' shirt and "placed the taser to his stomach."  Harris said he responded: "I don't think you should do that. I don't think Internal Affairs would like that.'  The suit says Orls/delle stung Harris with the Taser on the right side of his stomach and then stung him on the left side of the stomach after he had fallen down. At the time, the suit says, Harris was in handcuffs. The lawsuit says the officer never informed anyone that he had used his Taser. peter:hermann@baltsun.com	nmate ID No:

Former P.G. executive faces new U.S. charges

Prosecutors say Johnson took more than $200,000 in bribes in a wide-ranging corruption conspiracy

By Maria Glod and Ovetta Wiggins

THE WASHINGTON POST

Former Prince George's County Executive Jack B. Johnson accepted more than $200,000 in bribes and played a central role in a broad corruption conspiracy that involved other county officials, candidates for public office and at least three developers or business leaders, federal officials alleged in new charges filed Monday.

A 31-page indictment filed in U.S. District Court in Greenbelt for the first time charges Johnson with soliciting and accepting bribes. It comes three months after Johnson and his wife, Leslie Johnson, were arrested at their home after they allegedly conspired to hide $79,600 in cash in Leslie Johnson's bra and flush a $100,000 check from a developer down

Monday's indictment outlines in detail the scope of the government's corruption probe in Prince George's and alleges how much money Johnson got from developers and what he did in re-

The indictment alleges that the conspiracy lasted from 2003 until November, almost through the entirety of Johnson's eight years in office.

It describes a pay-to-play atmosphere in Prince George's during Johnson's tenure and quotes the former county executive in wiretaps talking about shaking down developers seeking federal housing money, and demanding donations for his wife's campaign for County Council.

Jack Johnson, 61, said Monday in a written statement that "the time to talk is in court and not in the press.'

His attorney, Billy Martin, said the indictment "seriously mischaracterizes" Johnson's tenure.

Johnson is the sole person charged in the indictment, but several other public officials and business people are described as co-conspirators. One of them is liquor store owner Amrik Melhi, who in November was charged in a scheme to distribute black-market alcohol and cigarettes.

Late last year, two Prince George's police officers and several others were indicted in the alcohol and cigarette

In addition, the indictment alleges that Johnson conspired with two unnamed developers and an unnamed candidate for public office.

Johnson, the county's former top prosecutor, is accused of rewarding those who bribed him by steering millions of dollars in federal grant money, influencing the business permitting process and using his authority to get people jobs.

UTRE

Leslie Johnson, who is awaiting a preliminary hearing set for March on charges of witness tampering and destruction of evidence, has maintained her County Council seat but has been stripped of some responsibilities.

Negro Mountain, in Garrett County bordering Pennsylvania, was named in honor of a black frontiersman killed in the French and Indian War. Some legislators in both states want it renamed, possibly as Nemesis Mountain after the fallen soldier.

GRANTSVILLE — Bryant Bunch, who came from Prince George's County to attend college here at the far end of the Maryland panhandle, first saw the sign on Interstate 68 while traveling with a carload of friends a few years back.

He remembers their reaction: Does that say what we think it says?

Maxine Broadwater, born and raised on a farm outside Grantsville, and the town's librarian for three decades, recalls the first time she ever gave the name a second thought. It was the early 1990s, and people passing through had stopped at her library to ask about it.

Her thought: Why would that bother anybody?

Those disparate reactions to "Negro Mountain," the name that 18th-century settlers gave to the Garrett County landmark, have found their echo in Annapolis, where a Senate panel will begin debate this week on whether it should be

Some local and state politicians want to stop putting official notices in local newspapers and instead post them on their own websites. But what about the people who don't have Internet access, or just don't want to use the Internet: According

Only 35% of Americans over the age of 65 use the Internet.
Only 42% of Hispanics use it.
Only 50% of African Americans use it.

If you don't use the Internet, how will you find out what the government is doing? Do politicians have something to hide from you?

Politicians like to talk about transparency, but some are proposing an idea that would make it harder for citizens to find out what government is doing. THE BALTIMORE SUN

The Anne Arundel County NAACP held a show of support Tuesday afternoon for Carl O. Snowden, the head of the state attorney general's civil rights office. The event came on the heels of Snowden's appeal of a drunken-driving conviction.

Several community leaders, including elected officials and the president of the state NAACP, spoke so effusively about him that Snowden, 57, reminded those in attendance that it was "not a eulogy."

His work in the county has included helping to elect black residents to public office. working to pass legislation barring private clubs in the city from discriminating in membership and leading the current drive for what was said to be the first memorial to Coretta Scott King in the state, a memorial garden at Sojourner-Douglass College in Edgewater.

The speakers recalled times Snowden befriended them and organized the black community's civil rights efforts in Annapolis and the county.

Now, as fate would have it, he needs all.

ne friends he can get his hands on," said eorge Phelps, 84, who was the first black lw enforcement officer in the county.

Reasons offered for the event, attended by bout three dozen people, ranged from nissing the opportunity to thank Snowden vhen he was honored at the recent Martin uther King tribute to wanting to tell the public that he remains a sought-after comnunity leader. His drunken-driving convicion was obliquely mentioned, though ifterward some criticized its high-profile nature and outcome.

In November, Snowden was granted propation before judgment for driving while impaired — but it was the second time in less than eight years and was granted after a 2009 change in state law prohibited such a disposition. The Anne Arundel County circuit judge and the prosecutor said they were unaware of the change in the law. On Friday the judge said that sentence was illegal and found Snowden guilty.

The sentence, three years' probation and a $250 fine, is the same as under the PBJ. Snowden asked that the sentence not be imposed until an appellate ruling. andrea.siegel@baltsun.com item, conducted an examination, and disassembled it. This examination revealed the electrical / electronic device to be an older model portable television and that no explosive or other hazards were present. The fashion in which the item was constructed to represent a destructive device, as it contained the cell phone as well as the older model portable television, it was evident that it intended to terrorize or frighten the citizens of Baltimore County.

U.S. history teaching gets a C in Maryland

By Liz Bowie

THE BALTIMORE SUN

By the time students get to Matthew Finck's 11th-grade U.S. history class, the Civil War and the assassination of Abraham Lincoln are vague memories, historical facts they haven't heard about since eighth

Beyond a very simplistic view of the causes, "they have no knowledge of the Civil War," Finck said.

The Catonsville High School teacher does a basic review before he begins teaching his course, which covers the period from 1877 to today. But many of those students will never take another course in U.S. history because most colleges don't require them. So their first and last brush with the American Revolution could be in fifth grade.

In advance of Presidents Day weekend, the Thomas B. Fordham Institute published a report that gives Maryland a grade of C for its American history standards and says a generation of students is growing up essentially illiterate about the history of the coun-

Maryland was slightly ahead of the national average of D, but the report still found the standards, which form the basis for the curriculum across all school districts, "disjointed and fragmentary" and particularly lacking in the fifth and eighth grades.

In Maryland, American history is broken up into different periods. Students are given a dose of it in fifth and eighth grades and then one year in high school, usually in 10th or 11th grade.

Fifth-graders learn about the Colonial period through the American Revolution; eighth-graders cover the post-Revolutionary period through 1877; high school students take a course that covers 1877 through the post-Cold War era. Only high school students who take Advanced Placement U.S. history cover all time periods.

The Fordham report concludes that kind of emphasis on the later period of American history in high school means that many students don't receive a thorough grounding in the country's early history.

I do agree splitting history up is detrimental to the kids and they don't have the continuity" they should, Finck said.

Four years ago, a Maryland task force made up of history teachers and professors spent two years reviewing social studies teaching and came up with conclusions similar to the Fordham report's, said Geraldine Hastings, chair of the social studies department at Catonsville, who served on the committee. But those recommendations apparently were never carried out.

Mary Cary, the state's assistant superintendent for instruction, said the state is participating in discussions on the national leval about what should be taught in social studies. "We are in the mode of rewriting and revision of our curriculum from kindergarten to 12th grade. Social studies is No. 3," she said. "Next year we will begin to look at that program very critically."

She said she has begun internal discussions in the state Department of Education about the recommendations from the social studies task force.

Social studies teachers have expressed concern in recent weeks that their subject is getting short shrift because students do not have to be tested on it until they take American government in high school. Even that exam may be done away with after this year to save money, a proposal that received mixed reactions. Some teachers see it as cause for celebration because it frees them to be more creative, but others think it diminishes the importance of history.

Teachers also say that when students need extra help on reading and math in elementary and middle school, social studies is one of the subjects that is expendable.

"I think in middle school because of the high-stakes testing, people are definitely looking at language arts and math" more, said Laura Pinto, social studies department chair at Bates Middle School in Anne Arundel County. She said that teachers try to address some of the gaps in their students' knowledge and that Anne Arundel does allot a few days for teachers to review previous history classes.

Fordham did give a few grades of A: South Carolina and the District of Columbia were singled out for having exemplary standards.

Jeremy A. Stern, one of the two authors of the Fordham report, said there was no pattern in how well states did on the review. Neighboring states sometimes had very different approaches. Massachusetts, he said, had very good standards, but it was the only Northeastern state that did. D.C. and South Carolina have very different political leanings, but both had good standards that were free of political bias.

When Fordham did a history report in 2003, the authors found left-wing bias, but they said that has been replaced by a similar type of right-wing bias.

Both authors complained that generally too much emphasis has been placed on themes in teaching history rather than giving students a clear chronological time line. History is often taught in "broader conceptual themes," the report said.

But Hastings said a thematic approach is warranted in some cases, such as teaching students about immigration, adding that she is not in favor of having students simply memorize facts. But Hastings and other social studies teachers agree with the Fordham study's conclusion that too little time and emphasis has been placed on the teaching of history in general. liz.bowie@baltsun.com

bust called biggest ever Task force arrests 111 people About Medicare on charges involving bogus

claims, kickbacks, ID theft

By Richard A. Serrano TRIBUNE WASHINGTON BUREAU

WASHINGTON — The federal Medicare fraud task force brought criminal charges Thursday against doctors, nurses and health care company executives - in all, 111 people in nine cities — in what officials billed as the nation's biggest health care fraud bust.

The defendants are accused of cheating the government out of more than $225 million through false-billing schemes that included fraudulent claims, kickback operations, money laundering and identity theft.

The sweep of the case was so massive that it took more than 700 federal agents from the FBI and the Department of Health and Human Services to conduct. In addition, 16 search warrants were served across the country in connection with ongoing investigations.

"Our message is clear," said Assistant Attorney General Lanny Breuer from the Justice Department's Criminal Division. "We are determined to put Medicare fraudsters out of business.

Daniel Levinson, the Health and Human Services inspector general, added: "We will not tolerate criminals lining their pockets at the expense of Medicare patients and taxpayers."

The task force was launched in March 2007, and since then more than 990 people have been charged in false billing schemes covering more than $2.3 billion, with nearly 750 of them convicted, officials said. In addition, in 2010 alone the joint federal, state and local task force recovered $4 billion in fines and other restitution payments on behalf of taxpayers that had been lost to corruption.

Nearly 40 million elderly and disabled Americans are enrolled in taxpayer-funded Medicare plans; some estimates put the cost of fraud at $60 billion a year.

The accusations leveled Thursday run the gamut. Some defendants allegedly submitted claims to Medicare for treatments that were medically unnecessary or never provided. Some are accused of recruiting patients for hospitals and doctors, then pocketing cash kickbacks.

Others allegedly set up schemes involving home health care, physical and occupational therapy, nerve conduction tests and prescription medicine.

In Los Angeles, the five defendants are accused of scheming to defraud Medicare S. of more than $28 million in false claims for medical equipment and home health care. In Chicago, 11 defendants were connected to businesses that allegedly billed Medicare more than $6 million for home health, diagnostic testing and prescription drugs.

Other arrests occurred in Detroit; Brooklyn, N.Y.; Houston; Dallas; Miami; Tampa, Fla.; and Baton Rouge, La.

Breuer said the task force has become more sophisticated, developing many of the cases quickly, some in as little as two months. "We're taking real data in real time and bringing the cases," he said. rserrano@tribune.com

Attorney General Eric Holder, shown announcing thé crackdown Thursday, said the average prison sentence following a task force arrest has been 43 months.

On 02/07/2011 at 0800 hours, Ofc J.L. Chrystal #5536 and Officer Rupp #4957 responded to 400 Washington Ave., 21204 in reference to a suspicious package. Upon arrival, Ofc Chrystal observed a toilet covered in newspaper articles and signs. Ofc Chrystal also observed an unknown electronic device attached to the top of the toilet and a cell phone attached top of the electronic device. Ofc Chrystal immediately backed away from the toilet and notified his supervisor. Several units were called to the scene to shut down vehicular and foot traffic several blocks in each direction of the package. Aviation, K-9, Baltimore County Fire Department, as well as The Hazardous Devices Team (HDT) all responded to the scene.

Upon HDT's arrival on scene BCPD-PC-06 personnel had shut down the central Towson area and either expected or ordered people to shelter in place in interest of public safety. It is deployed a bomb disposal robot to conduct an initial investigation of the ite. Technicians observed via robotic camera what appears to be a toilet base, which had relatively large electrical or electronic attached to it with plastic zip-ties and wires. On top of this device were a cellular telephone and a metal telescoping antenna, which was

Bail Review Rights

District Court of Maryland

Your Bail Review is not your trial but is a hearing to determine whether the bail that has been set in your case ought to be changed or whether you ought to be released on your own recognizance under conditions set by the court. Each of you should have received a copy of your statement of charges. If you have not received your charging documents, please tell the Pretrial Representative and the Bail Review Judge and a copy will be provided to you.

You have certain very important rights. Please listen carefully. If you are charged with a felony that cannot be heard in District Court, you have the right to a Preliminary Hearing. Before there can be a Preliminary Hearing, you or your attorney must request the hearing. If you fail to ask for a Preliminary Hearing within 10 days, you will have given up that right. If you choose to have a Preliminary Hearing, the State must show that there is Probable Cause to believe that you committed that felony. You will not be able to testify or call witnesses to testify for you, but you or your attorney will be able to ask questions of the State's witnesses to learn what evidence the State has against you. If Probable Cause is found, your case will be moved to the County Circuit Court. If Probable Cause is not found, the felony charge will be dismissed.

If you are charged with a crime for which the maximum period of incarceration is more than 90 days, you have a right to a jury trial in the County Circuit Court. A jury is composed of 12 persons picked from the motor vehicle and voter rolls of the County. All 12 jurors must find you guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, in order for you to be found guilty. You also have a right to a court trial where a judge will determine whether you are guilty or not guilty. The standard of proof in a court trial is also beyond a reasonable doubt.

Perhaps your most important right is the right to have a lawyer represent you. If you cannot afford to hire a private lawyer, the Public Defender may provide a lawyer to represent you at no cost or a nominal cost if you qualify for their services. The State's Attorney who will be prosecuting your case is a lawyer. The rules of evidence will apply at your trial. If you are not trained in the law and you do not know the rules of evidence, you will find that you are at a disadvantage in attempting to represent yourself. A lawyer can help you in many ways. A lawyer can help you investigate your case and determine if there is a legal defense that you might not know exists. A lawyer can help you question the state's witnesses, call witnesses and question any witnesses that you may have. A lawyer can help you decide whether you should testify or whether you should remain silent. Even if you are found guilty, a lawyer can still help you by arguing to the Judge about the sentence to be imposed and your rights concerning any appeal. These are the advantages to having a lawyer. You may hire any lawyer you choose. If you are unable to hire a private attorney, you may go to the Public Defender's Office to apply for representation. If you remain in jail, you may apply to the Office of the Public Defender for representation. If you make bail or you are released on your own recognizance, you must go in person to the Public Defender's Office immediately upon release or as soon thereafter as possible. When you arrive, you will be given an income verification form. The verification form must be returned to the Public Defender's Office before your trial date so that a determination can be made whether you qualify for representation. If you do nothing between now and the date of your trial to obtain a lawyer, the Judge may find that you have waived your right to a lawyer. If you appear for your trial without a lawyer, the Judge could also find that you have waived your right to a lawyer. In either event, your case will be heard without a lawyer.

Finally, if you are not a citizen of the United States, a conviction of a crime may result in deportation to your country of origin. If you have any questions regarding these rights, please ask the Bail Review Judge when your name is called.

Shortie

I want to start off by saying how sorry I was to here about Gerrell. I got a message on face book that you were in trouble and I went on line to see if it was true. I read everything that was posted on the internet. I saw your video on my space. I wanted you to know that I believe in you. I know that after living next door to you all those years what your children meant to you. I knew you when you were cooking on the grill outside of the apt's. I watch day in and day out the love you had for each one of your children. I knew you had a prison record but what mattered to me was how you were always their for me. You always treated me with respect as did your children. You drove me to work when it snowed and taught me the meaning of the hood. Being Jewish never entered the picture. You were full of love for me as I will always be for you. I wish this world could be the kind of place we all dream of. Where all people all treated the same. Rich, poor, white, black. But I will be 60 this year and I am afraid it will not be in my lifetime. I am very proud to call you my friend Shortie.

I live in San Diego with my cousin Larry. Do you remember him. He remembers you and your ribs. He also thinks very highly of you.

I wish I could help in some way other than just letting you know I love you.

Please be safe and tell the kids to stay strong. They are good kids and you need to be proud of them. All kids make mistakes in their lives. As parents all we can do is hope they learn from example. You were a great example.

Stay strong and know a lot of people love you. Shelley Coller Shelley Cotter 5450 Kiowa dr unit 34 La Mesa Ca. 91942

Toilet outside Towson courthouse creates bomb scare

By Yeganeh June Torbati

THE BALTIMORE SUN

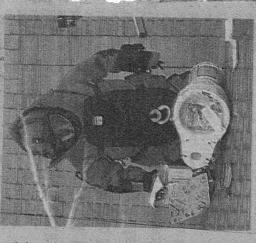

Part of central Towson came to a standstill Monday morning — for a toi-

The porcelain toilet — festooned with newspaper clippings, an electronic transmitter and a cell phone — was left outside the historic Baltimore County courthouse about 8 a.m., triggering applice reaction that included a bomb-sniff ing dog and a small robot.

Workers from nearby businesses streamed out to watch as police closed nearby streets, including the 400 block of Washington Ave., near the intersection with Pennsylvania Avenue.

Michael Minervini, who works at the M&T Bank branch on Washington Avenue, said employees were confused and worried as they watched police investigate the package and the robot approach the toilet. "Certainly, any time you put a mysterious package or item or whatever around a government building, you're See TOILET, pages 179

I was startled by their statement that professional historians had focused farmore attention on the 1968 Columbia University student protests as well as the demonstrators at the Democratic Convention in Chicago. The authors state that "during Holy Week 1968, the United States experienced its greatest wave of social unrest since the Civil War." Some 110 cities were hit by riots; Baltimore, Washington and Chicago experienced some of the worst violence.

The book contains passages about the big players, Gen. George Gelston of the Maryland National Guard; Spiro Agnew, then Maryland's governor; Police Commissioner Donald D. Pomerleau; David Glenn, of the Community Relations Con-called out to keep order.

I reacted to the thoughts of a then-student at the University of Baltimore — Joe DiBlasi, who went on to represent South Baltimore on the City Council. DiBlasi was then in the Maryland National Guard, returning home from a drill session in Parkville. He was 22 and found himself in charge of 12 Guardsmen at North and Pennsylvania avenues. He recalled it as a surreal scene. "You would just look around and say, 'How can this be happening?"."

As I watched the flames, I thought the same thing. Myfamily lived in the city; we often shopped on the street — Gay Street in Oldtown — where the flames first erupted. How could this be happening?

The book also contains an account of the family of Sidney and Ida Pats, who owned and lived at Downe's Pharmacy on West North Avenue between Bolton and Callow. Their daughters, Sharon Pats Singer and Betty Pats Katzenelson, recalled driving back to their store that day and seeing it in flames. They recounted how they lost the business and did not return to a city neighborhood they had known as home for so many years. "Life as we knew it was over at that point," said Sharon Singer.

Urban renewal schemes were going haywire in Baltimore at this time. I recall walking along Mount Royal Avenue in 1961 and seeing boarded-up houses slated for demolition. It looked like World War II footage of Berlin.

Years later, my sisters recounted a personal story. That day, April 6, 1968, several of their classmates were at our family home in Charles Village, including the son of Mayor Thomas J. ## Obama vows equality in Latin American ties

By Peter Nicholas TRIBUNE WASHINGTON BUREAU

SANTIAGO, Chile — Striking a humble chord, President Barack Obama said Monday that the United States has sometimes taken Latin America for granted and promised a new relationship that did not consign it to the status of "junior partner."

In what was billed as a major speech, Obama laid out a vision for a Latin American-U.S. relationship rooted in a shared belief in democracy, stronger cultural ties and expanded trade.

"I believe that in the Americas today, there are no senior partners and there are no junior partners, there are only equal partners. Of course, equal partnerships, in turn, demand a sense of shared responsibility," said Obama, speaking in a modern art museum near the presidential palace in Santiago.

Obama gave the address hours after arriving at the midpoint of a five-day tour that began with a stop in Brazil and ends Wednesday in El Salvador.

Fifty years ago, John F. Kennedy launched his Alliance for Progress, pumping billions of dollars into Latin American economies. Today, struggling with huge budget deficits at home, an American president is no longer in position to lavish aid on the region and so must rethink the way north and south cooperate in the modern era, aides said.

Obama sought to dispel stereotypes of the United States as an overbearing neighbor. He said the U.S. economy is entwined with that of Latin America. Each needs the other to succeed, he said.

"Latin America is only going to become more important to the United States, especially to our economy," Obama said after a meeting and joint news conference with Chilean President Sebastian Pinera.

"Trade between the United States and Latin America has surged. We buy more of your goods and products than any other country, and we invest more in this region than any other country. ... In other words, when Latin America is more prosperous, the United States is more prosperous."

Obama seemed to acknowledge that the U.S. faces fierce competition for Latin American markets. Brazil's largest trade partner is China—not the United States.

The history between Chile and the U.S. has had painful moments. In the news conference, a Chilean reporter asked Obama about "open wounds" stemming from the dictatorship of Augusto Pinochet.

Referring to allegations of a U.S. role in the 1973 coup that brought the general to power, the reporter said "many of those wounds have to do with the U.S." He asked if Obama would pledge U.S. assistance in "vestigating that part of Chile's past.

Poland visit planned

WASHINGTON — When President Barack Obama travels to Europe in May, Poland will be on the itinerary, White House officials said Monday. Obama will meet with Prime Minister Donald Tusk and President Bronislaw Komorowski, whom he welcomed to the Oval Office in December, officials said. The trip, May 23-28, also will feature stops in Ireland, the United Kingdom and France.

- Tribune Newspapers

In reply, Obama said that the United States would "like to cooperate" with requests for information.

"Obviously," Obama said, "the history of relations between the United States and Latin America have at times been extremely rocky and have at times been difficult. I think it's important, though, for us, even as we understand our history and gain clarity about our history, that we're not trapped by our history.

"And the fact of the matter is, is that over the last two decades we've seen extraordinary progress here in Chile and that has not been impeded by the United States but, in fact, has been fully supported by the United States."

 Coloring book used to smuggle drugs into jail

Three inmates and two of their loved ones were charged with attempting to smuggle drugs into a Cape May, N.J., jail on the pages of a children's coloring book, authorities said Tuesday.

The drug, Suboxone, normally used to treat heroin addiction but itself classified as a controlled substance, was dissolved into a paste and then painted into the coloring book, said Cape May County Sheriff Gary Schaffer. Pages with "To Daddy" scribbled on top were sent to the prisoners.

OMAHA — Joseph White didn't live long enough to see most of a $500,000 settlement from Nebraska for serving nearly 20 years in prison for a crime he didn't commit. Released in 2008 after being exonerated by DNA evidence, he returned to his native Alabama.

White, 48, was killed in a workplace accident Sunday while moving coal in Tarrant, Ala. He received $25,000 from Nebraska last year for being wrongly imprisoned on a life sentence in the 1985 killing of an elderly woman. Legislation to pay him the remaining $475,000 was pending in the Nebraska Legislature.

11:30 am Just Got up Lunch "BS" Armark is making a mint at the expense of the inmates. So is the Maintance, Commissry, laundry & Kitchen . I dollar aday 20 days on 10 days. Slave wages for slave John How much would it cost Armork & this institution if the had to employ real workers. Americas cash cow is the Prison Industry. and my stay in the Lake Country Jail and the Balt County Jail Sull exposses the Cash cow prison industry. This diary details all aspects of the Judicial System and how they really treat in mates. This is an independent open investigation that both County City State and Federal Ossicials want to Keep a secret. I'made the ultamate sacrifice of self to open expose and challenge a Racially Oppressive Judical System.

1.54 Just told the "Painting Crew "about my story. They got $500 aday

1:10 Writing "Letter" to Sheriff Fisher.

5:13 Finished "Letter" to Sherist Fisher. Would bus to see his Sace when he reads it. Clearly marked evidence, for my lawyer and Dept of Justice Eric Holder

6:49 pm Finished a "Letter" to Kathiash Maryland Jilm Industry. Theyeng to get an application from and contact enformation for Charles Dutton Forrest Whitlaker Wanny Glover and Common. They are shooting a Movie alled the Urban Chronicles. Polices working on a Movie about of Edgar Hower FBI. In DC Mut Estavo

(79) all I can do is wait for my replies. We got a inmate in 1 but naked in a paper suit. I didn't get out the gate on nobody the whole weekend. (9) is scared to Death of me. I promised Frenchy I would stop ridding Sor my 200 and 211 my 118's to be returned. They Kept me in july for 163 days in Illinois. The bean tocked up since 2/8/2011 I got to I days already. Speedy Trial is 128. They have no auidence and the burden of proof is on the State. The American Judicial System is going be on trial. Black Justice vs White Justice. Truth is Justice is suppose to be blind. Been Clipping the News Paper. Get dot of information. Gonna make some Mora "Toilets" when I get out. Looking at Mid Jung

I got a envelopes left. Gonna call my lawyer Monday see if they got the mail. See if ACITY gets involved.

" Let the Games begin and player pick their sides"

I would leave him alone and not ride him but I just want to make him miserable. Ain't nothing wrong with him. He's a "user" Told him he would have made a good house boy. He would do any thing For snack candy cookie. 2nd has a thicf. Re's wearing someone's Stolan draws. Next time he takes a Shower upstairs Im gonna

1:00 pm Talked to a man Srom Classa Skathon. Told him I want all my 118's and loose paper out of my property. Don't want no body inaware of what I plan on doing.

1:25 Called my lawyer. They got my mail. And they got my money off my Credit card. Call them later on and got some

8:20 pm Filed another 118. This time I re-wrote an article from the Baltimore Sun Concerning Human Civil & Constitutional Rights Wiolations. From Baying Chinia Told America to clean their own Makes Sense. Sent the 118 to Lt Vogan & the Shift Commander.

5:00 Am Just Got 6 118's. Think I'll make a book called 118. Gonna treat them like the Walls of Jerichol. Bean locked up illegally since alblaon. Denied bail Denied Preliminary hearing. Denied Copy of Grand Jury Minutes, Denied access to the press to tell my side of the Story. Denied access to my Medical records. Denied addresses to contact outside help. Denied all the Rights they say I am entitled under the Constitution of these United States of America. Well Chief of Balt County Polica Dept got his mail. Today Shariff Fisher should be getting his. Misery Love Companiand I am not alone. Keen putting them 118's on their decree

Im a Political Prisoner inside an america Jail. No different than Nelson Mandella, Steven Biko, Gahndi, Malcom Kor Martin Luther King Jr. Those are my mentors. and they call me crazy because I just won't accept their Racial Injustice. This is why I want to give up my citizenship and leave america. In tired of being their whipping boy. If you want to stop Racism in America take the Blacks Hispanics Muslims and the asian out of America. Then who will they hate & persecute? Themselves? How much is enough. and how long should we as a people continue to accept Racial Inaqualities? I made my choice and my decision and I stand whole heartedly behind my convictions. "I was born Free and I'll accept nothing less Than total Freedom.

Gonna write Eric Holder a "Letter" Later today o President Obama has gotten 2 already o Both were to be shared with 118 Grand raint Some is gonna name everyone.

Tibs Guard can't sigure out why I am in this section. He does realise that if I am in population that I can enlighten all the inmates to their rights. I could get them together and Sile a class action lawsuit about ineffectiveness of council. Public Defender and States Alterney work together. I've put in enough 118 to make a Book. I get 15 $8 to proof read my Letters and 118's. Don't use their names so they can't sue me. I Besides we ain't nothing but a number anyway. I name the official involved to hold them accountable.

8:00 Medical Came through. Same B/S. 3" time I asked for Glasses. And I asked Sqf Sterrett about the Slashlight they used night. It wakes upur up from a dead sleep. This institution is using Sleep deperpation tachnics to keep the inmates of balance. a hour maps from 11pm - 5pm so they sleep the day away. I have dark mings under my eyes from lack of sleep. The light they use gives me a headach. Told Medical Staff. Filed another 118 this morning with the property Sqf & Mr O'Neill. Told the facility policy doesn't supercede the Constitute and Isward like responses to my 118 in written form the same way I sent them out.

coming through Lunch fatige must be setting in . Guards coming through 3-4 times a night doesn't allow you to get proper night time sleep. I don't have the luxury of prescription medication to let me sleep. I hear everything. Doors opening and closing, Keys, footsteps, and loud mouth in a.

Set Sterrett and officer Gray got me a lunch tray. Officer Gentry Notarised my "Letters" to Eric Holder and Elijah Cummings. I hope he's the POD officer on Friday. I won't need the institution to Notarise my "Letters". But I still want to know the policy on Certified Mail. I'll write my lawyer this weekend since shelthey only recieved one "Letter". I know Sheriff Fisher "Chief of Police got their "Letters" I instructed them to contact my lawyer. I want to review my indictment.

6:45 pm Must have touched a Nerva: O'Neill sent me another "Letter." But no copies of all my 118's.

7:30 Just to do something I filed a reply to the "Letter" Mr. O' Neill sent me. Told him to Read Martin Luther Kings Letter From a Birmingham Jail. and Loft him was a God Bless . (74) That 118 with the other ones I Siled should touch a Nerve. Told him I ama Prison dolocate and the 1400 inmates would have more than 1400 complaints to put on his desk. Seems like has had his way and done whatever he wants to the inmates here. They can't justify why I'm here on ac so as long as I am miserable I'm gonna make administration miserable. Just like "13 ghost," He should have looked at those videos on youtube & Facebook I'm prepared for the Battle. It dint mine. It's the Lords" 7:45 Everyone is Seeling the Commissing Crunch. Nobody has money on the Books. Now they want to make deals. Gonna Stay to myself. Call my lawyer and tell them to get all my namely out of my Bank decount. Put it on my Books. If I'm gonna be locked up. I might as well be comfortable.

4:55 pm POD officer was a Dick last night. Turned lights out at 11 pm then turned them back on at count. Shinning the Blue light on inmates and coming in the cell waking us up at 2:00pm. Both Guards went into 16 threatening him. all about some toothpaste on the uent and mirror: That was there long before he got there. It was my cell when I sirst got here in February. I would love to be a Sly on the wall when Giveill gets my 118. Gonna Load his desk up with them. I hope the Library answers my request. Lt Dixion and Lt whitehead on my list too. Called Entrapement.

11: 26 Am Lt Whitehead Just come Arrough. Bought the 118 back. I mack him initialist. Showard him O'Neill's "Latter" too. Weiting on the other 118's. Finishing up my "Latter" to Eric Holder, Whitehead said has conducting an investigation. Wouldn't tell me the nature, but I showed him mine. Called my lawyer no answer. Called Dick no answer. Oh well. Everything Come in time. 12:40 Just mail off "Letter" to Eric Holder. Joe proof read it.

Joseph a Chinger 12145 Got a Card from my wife. She put some money on my books too. Good think I describe her. I'm blessed. been there Truck Love, Sometimes I don't lioopen Sent a 118 to the Librarian. Quoted an article from Balt Sun-about China human Rights violations. 21k for address to United Nations and New York Time Newspaper. and I mentioned Mr O'Nell. I love getting on his nerves. Gonna Keep riding him till I get out. Just becaused and I'm gonna hold O'Mallay accountable as well. Gonna write to 7:15pm Bored (4) is really immature. He's got alot of growing up to do. Mords anger management boodly. Never owns up to the role he plays in his situation and thinks overyone is suppose to soal with his problems. ask for advice but won't use the information. always wants to play until Reality slaps him in the Sace. He got court papers today, and no commissary on the Books. He's putting a Sinacial strain on his family. and mad cause I went buy him mything. He's gonna find out about Jail. 23 years old and acts like a Kid. Don't know when to stop playing or when enough is enough. Indeed don't know a womans worth.

5:15 am CH Mahurh been sleeping all night in the bubble. Must be

1:45 I got mail. 50° recipt Srom My Wise a 118's from the librarian. With all the information I requested except Barrtry. They thought I ment Battery. It's when the States attorney knowingly brings salse charges against an individual or corperation. also Perjury. as wall as addresses to Md Public Policy Institute I Research Ct # 450 Rockville Md 20850-6252 # 240-686-3510 and Franklin Center For Government & Public Integrity. 127 Payton Street Suite 200 alexadria Va. 22314, 3:00pm Wrote the Librarian another 118. and a Note to go with it. I get Library on Wed. So I'll get the information regardless. O'Weill told me to write the book and he is the Subject. Just 11Ke Bull Conners in Birmingham or George Wallace in Georgia. Racism in the American Judicial System is going to be addressed. Got a few more legal tricks up my sleave and I'm gonna do it in their Face. 6.15. Nurse asked me about my Stop Snitching Video on Youtube.
Made me facel good. alot of people in this institution Know I shouldn't be here. Librarian asked for a copy of my Book. O'Neall is pissed that I keep riding him with thesells. Staff wort return my 118's or give mean answer on their policy for Certified Mail. all I old is treat The Judicial System the way they treated me. "Like Shit." So since I dealt with it. Now it's their turns Fair exchange. Dint no stick up without a Gun. Got rules to this Game. There aint None. So don't hate the Player Hate the Game. They are all MAD at me logicalise I'm good at what I do: I'll chill today. I sent the 118 to the librarian. Should get a raply Monday Tuesday library on Wednesday.

J'Opm Gamble is abusing her power as a guard. Gonna write mayor for not locking up a Star she created the conflict. Got inmotes that saw the whole incident. She tries to intimidates inmates. I Siled a 118 on her 2 weeks ago and this can be considered retaliation. I also Siled a 200 complaint against her last week. Not gonna just treat me any kind of way and think I'm gonna accept it . If I was so wrong why didn't the guard with her put me in the call. I've been in my room all night long. I shouldn't even be in this section. She was listening to the conversation I had with the Norsa. Yes I am gonna stand up for my rights. Harrison came from Medical and Shift and she ain't did nothing to get his property here. Her reply was I don't know any-thing about it. So we got a floater to look into it:

10:45 Ms Gamble called me down to talk" she didn't write may up and I didn't get to see a Soft or Lt. Put in a 118 to Mr O'Neill. Still waiting on the Soft to come by. She is on a Power Trip. and she made reserrance to the Nurse so I know she was listening to the Conversation: Guards Cant even get along with her.

Hildsold

5:04 Am Morning "faced up! Got the guard into a conversation about being a product of your enviorment. Said he'll come back so use can have a conversation. Said my mother would be disappointed in man because I'm in jail. So I'm gonna convience him something Sifferently.

8:30 m Get a 200 complaint Sorm Som Sqt's" (78) aloom Visit. 10:30m Lawyer come to see me. Said I have a Bond Review 4/20/2011. Not gonna hold my breath. Did say hell call States Altornay Shellenbarger as a witness and get my papers from Judge Piersons Court Case # 24c-10-009191. Told him to get my money out of Bank and trace down my Escrow money from the City. He might call John May as a witness and play the video. Gonna call Rob. Fix too. Ha's gonne review the evidence on 4/26/2011. and he's genna question the obte on the Police report. Get a copy of search warrant. and get a "Trial" date "ASEP." Wish they would of done this in Lake County! I wouldn't be sitting here now. I'll get a list of and told me he spoke to ALCU. Littering is the bast the State can get. It's possible the State might drop the Charges. In betting on a trial. Got some good articles in the Newspaper. 9 30pm Talked to the Dread Guard about the incident last night. they have a double standard about policy at this facility. We had No problems tonight except @ doing what he does averynight.
They won't put me in population to said my life a Sunday till write Latters. 5-6 this week. 4/17/2011 5:21 rm Up and at it again. Gonna dorite a witness list for my lawyer. and I'm gonna sand the "200" for to M5 Mossbarq got most of the things I plan to do inside my head (19) so I'll pust it on paper. Gonna ask Sor a Surloug if I don't get a Bail mecognisance bondo Gonna tell the Judge Inead my time out and my computer to enter parts of my Movie into the Maryland Film Festivaly. They did it for Snoop off the Wire. So I might as well give it a Shot. Go to DC to the Chinnese embassy and ask for Sancuary or Political assylum. Really put this case on 12:10 Sent in a 118 to Mr O'Neill about my mail. Not gonna like it and I don't care. Gonna write him every oday. Just like I did Sheriff Curran . 12:35 Finished my "Letter" to Congressman Cummings, He's gonna hate me but respect my integrity.

12:40pm Just mailed can cumming "Letter" off. Go some more
"Letter" to write, but I'm gonna take a Nap right Now. 3:45 Gamble is back on Shift. Nit picking again. Guard checked my armband she wants a rechech. 4:35 Just Sinished my "Letter" to Ms Marta H Mossburg Franklin Conter for Government & Public Integrity. Marked it local mail to insure delivery no certified Services of 4:50 Gamble is on her B/s. Riding people about giving up the Good they don't eat to Q. Won't let us watch I the Game Gesterday the Guard cut the Game on and let us watch it. She needs help.

5! (O I let &) Proof read my "Letter" to Ms Mars (8) burg and my 118 to Dr Tobin. Monday Morning is gonna piss off alot of the administration. Got a Job to do and Martin Luther King Jr set up my Blue Print.
7:05 Sent a 118 to Classification Dept Head. asked for all my request for a Federal investigation from Eric Holder Dept of Just Sinished my 200 Sorm. It's for a Postal Tospector

7:40 Just Sinished my 200 Sorm. It's Sora Postal Inspector and to turn over my diary to Eric Holder of the Dept of Justice. Federal violations require a Federal investigation. and I made sure all the evidence is in their hands. We gonna see who's smarter than a drop out. Won't be able to deal with this in house much longer. Genna drop It in the Box tonight. Gonna Terrorise them with the Thuth! See how they respond to this 200 Sorm This 15 my 3rd one. Long as I am here I'm gonna make them just as miserable as I am. and when I have my trial alot of individuals will be indicted and face Federal Grand Jury. Told them I was making a Stop Snitching Video. So lets see what Monody Brings.

7.50pm 200 Form is in the Box. Dread Storn 2D put it in because Gamble won't let me near the mail box. But it got in there. Sqt Sterrett signed it Now let the Games begin.

to my Lawyer Sor my upcoming case. Just like Martin Luther King Jr Blue Print Srom a Birmingham Jail. Im just Sollowing his be a "Leller" Sor the Books.

8:30 pm Finished my page "Letter." I took alot of breaks but I did it. Joe out of 8 got released today so I used (5) to proof read for me. Got Library on Wed I'll make Copies.

9:00pm Seems like I'm running a Dear Abby corner. Dealing with so many other peoples problems and still trying to manage my own. Stressfull situation. Dropped a 118 in the Beix hom. Cause I aint gonna let him run up on me. He aint in my class. and I aint got a problem until he puts his hands on me. Then it's every man for himself. Know how. Too ald to run or change. and a coward I'm not. Gonna get more than what he's looking for.

15 enough. Can't say I sorgot. and I take it very personal. They went answer my 118's or 200 request. and they can't say I'm a problem on the deck. But I'll just deal with them in Court. accountabilty for their actions.

Take abusintage of the lights. Read and write. File (9) à 118 in the Morning. Just because "I Can! and it leaves a longer Paper trail. 5:10 Put in the 118. To shift Commender [ Mr O'Neill 6:50 They came to get (1) off the Seck. Guess they got the 118 and the guard's report Srom Sunday Morning. Hope they mailed my Letters 12:38pm Sleep most of the morning. Gonna take me a hot Shower wash my clothes in the sink. and get ready for 4/26/2011. Everyone got their Mail toddy. Shellenberger, Eric Holder, Mr O'Neill, Ms Mossburg, David Irwin, Chief of Police Balt County, and Mr Haser Supervising Constable pertaining to Jake & Jim. So we are all on the same page. United Nations Should get theirs by Thursday. Gow O'Malley Should get his by Wednesday. I'm ready for a very very Public Trial. and with those "Toilets" in the Court room and my witness list, they'll see how Crazy I really am - Entrapement, Perjury, Conspiracy, Filing Salse charges, Malicious prosecution, Threats & Intimodition. Sheriff Fisher got his mail last week. Glad I set up my Youtube page and Sacabook. The Speach I made at Gerralts Suneral is now completed. I finished what I started. and I Kapt my word and my Homisa. 2:45 ph Lock Journ Got a new inmate in (10). I took a 1/2 shower washed my things. and I'm ready for court in the morning. Looks 50/50. Might drop the Charges and they might keep mel for trial. I have over 80 days in so all I have to do is 40 morg for speedy trial. I'm in a win win situation. Everyone I Mentioned has to produce the "Letters" I wrote, and thus admitting Knowledge of my Documentary/Books

Plus they have be produce the Torlets Banners, 911 calls, and my Jailhouse diary. I jury would love this trial. Plus They get to see the Facebook pages as well as youtube, myspace Twitter A OL and Likinin accounts. Commings Cardin Mikulski Jackson Durbin Road and the Washington De videos would enrage the Jury and adie's video would be the Candle on the Cake. I proved my point and showed the Racism that is so deeply rooted in our american Judicial System. Sorry to say Dred Scott Still exist. Take a nap. Time zint moving Sast enough. 4:53 Been locked up 25 days and no court date. Lake County held me for 163 days. And my lawyer promised me a trial. I got him on tape saying I will never get a Court date. or trial. Seems like the samething is going happen here. Got a Sunny Seeling. My lawyer hasn't come to see me and Mr O'Neill hasn't returned any of the insormation I requested. Being Black in America is a Capital Crime. 8:00 Packing up for Court. (1) wants me to take the Plea. I want to go home but I don't want to scarifice my morals and principles. I want what they owe me and I want my life back. I've been Following the path of rightnousness and it atint been a easy road to traval. It's been a long and lonely journey. Not very many men would endure the trials of trivulations I have. I miss my Fragger III

Martin Malcolm would not buckel upder this, but I am really feeling the pain. I live in Exile in my Own Country. and the Judicial System is reknowned for Racial injustice. This struggle started 3/3/86. 2nd I have silently been carrying the Cross long enough. The only way to win is through the Courts. City County State and Federal levels. The World Court is the last resort. 400 years Of accepting Racial inequalities is Sartoo long. Someone has to make that stand and say enough is enough. Hope I'm Strong enough to Sinish what I started. That's the type of "Man" my Father & Mother raised me to be. This Battle isn't mine. It's the Lords'. I'm just an instrument of his Peace d'simple Soldier in the drang of the Lord. 9:55 Officer Curtis is here and she didn't bring the Copies of the 2003 or the 118's I asked for so I could show the Judge about my treatment at this sacility. Lawyer my book. and I'll leave if they Let me go. Prayed 4/26/2011 on it. and the rost is in his hands.

426201 1:15 Back Stom Court. Got my bond raduced to $10,000. Still in Court Dates. They had me on TV again. Better Look than before. Everyone was talling me about the interview. I didn't see it myself. Called William asked about the Book and my USB. Told me he don't have it and him & Paula are Sighting over the estate. Getting settled in get a napo Inmates are feeling this Political statement. Called my lawyer and he's gonne see me Wednesday after 5 pm. Gonna see if he can get me some copies of the "Toilets". Have him a list prepared as well. Have him call me wife too. Hauent heard from her. Have him call Shirl as well. Gonna show how Shellenberger created this entire Situation. Jake & Jim. Identity That Fraud & Forgery. 5:00pm Got to see the T.V. report about my case. Good "Look" I'm a calebraty around here now. Immates want me to help them Silo a Class action lawsurt against the Facility. 9135 Wrota 2) 118's So O'Neill can't dang me access to the information I am requesting. Gonna send it to WJZ when I see my "Lawyer." gonna request à Jailhouse interview às well. 10:15 Changed my mind sent a "Letter" to Baltimora Sun instead. Put the 2nd 1/8 in the Box in the morning after they do the mail. Make sure it gets out. See when mail goes out takes a days. O'Malley Got his today. See did Shellenberger4/27/2011 5:10m Got a message to my wife last night (4) let me talk to his sister. She saw me on T.V. so I gave her the 4 to call. All the inmates are trying to get together and file a class action lawsuit against this Sacility. They have alot of violations that need to be addressed. In just a voice for the Vanceless. I only and what I falt needed to be done for the Betterment of "Our" Community To dismantle the Mastar's House you have to Use the Masters Tools. I used the TV station the way they used me. I used the Newspaper the way they used me. and I'm gonna use the "Law" the way the Law uses me. This is a time and material job. Time for the material to make it to the People. I'm only doing what Martin Luther King Ju or Malcolm X would have done if they were still alive. Fight For Rightiousness and Equality. Can't continue to have 2 sets of Laws and expect the society to survive. I house divided can never stand. So let's eliminate Racism across this Land The Land of the Frace and the Home of the Brave. "We the People" are the ones I want to save. Can't Keep Claiming Democracy and in the same Breath dany Our People their Birth Rights. I let (3) domy proof reading "Letter" is in the Mail. [18 is going into the Box later today. See my lawyer tonight. I'm ready for the Fight.

ATTORNEY CLIENT PRIVILEGE - At the request of Thomas J. Saunders, Esq.

9:20 Medical came through. I guess my interview shook up the administration. They want to put me in population Now. So I'll get ready for the Move. Told me to wait on my glasses. Put the 118 in the Box. Dr Tobin still hasn't responded to my request to release the evaluation to me. and o'Neill ain't responded to any of my 200 forms.

2:45 Finished my "Letter" Sor my lawyer. Made a list Sor 2D inmates that want to Sile a Class action lawsuit against this facility. I am not alone in my Sight against Racial Injustice in Balt Country Detertion Cuntar.

8:30 Lawyer didn't show up.

10:45 Wrote Lawyer 4 pg "Letter" fried to explain some things to him a disked him to contact some people so I can thopefully get out of here. Still don't have a Court dator. and the States Attorney is lying to the Judge:

4/28/2011 Just got my papers back from "aD" they are planning to 5:10 Sile a Class action lawsuit against this facility. So the tides of change is comming. Ha's goinna get me the address to the State Dept Vater Foody, I talked to Lt Dixion last night told her everything that's going on so there is no mistake or mis understanding about my position of the issues I we placed on Mr O'Neill's dask. Go alot Movement. We are not a Gong.

5:45 Just sent Mr O'Neill another 118. My 5th request. (97) told him not to destroy any of my request. Lt Dixion Said see is gonna Email the same request. 5:20 Guards had a different attitude this marning. No one came in the cell last night. They weren't shining the lights in our face all night. Frenchia went to DOC last night. He lest me his bowl and a dack of cards Genna miss that man. He was the only person that could calm me down when these quards got out the gate on me. But he should be out by the end of the Summer. Maybe Noddles has his information. Don't got alot to write about. Wait till commissary I'll have 6 "Letters" I can write this week. Still waiting on my lawyar to Get me that money and the paper fanvolopes. Running out of 8.30 pm thad a lon with Lt Dixion. Let her read a copy of (105) the 118 I sent to shift Commander & Mr O'Neill. Sold shas gonna have the Lt talk to me later.

1010 Someone book the Newspaper for the day. (19 has been acting out cause I won't play eards with him or give him no Streebees. Stamming abors. Leting like a sported child. He owes Frenchic, Ran the batteries out of the 12010 for 3) and wants me to take care of him. Growing up is a hard thing for him to do. Give him some air. He just takes Som people. and Son't ever share. He got alot of issues. and I don't want to be one of them.

5:45 Talking to (14) about his attitude. Doing Confessions. I should really be getting paid for this shit. I'm a man of many hats and everyone seems to think I am this Smort guy. In just a man that remembers Our American History. I know Black Codes and Jim Crow Justice. I know what lynching is and I refuse to be a victim of Racial injustica.

6:15 Just had a 15 minute conversation with Officer Voggela. Gave validity to my hypothisis Concorning Racism in the American Judicial System-and agreed to the comments about the Corruption in the system. I let him radd the 118 and sace the "Letter" From Wendell K Sutton- disa Knows about the "Zambezi study from the 1960 at Sanford University - Talked about the war on Drugs as well. So west Col Miller Col Barns "Libriaian Lt Whitehood Lt Dixion Soft Straut a OSSicar Joseph and a faw others have Knowledge of what I'm doing and trying to accomplish. Marlin Luther King Jr is my mentor. I want his Job. Position has been vacant Fare to long. and he was taken from us when we needed him most. So put me in coach. I'm ready to play in this game of Racial Injustice. I've bean to the Mountain Top.

1:00 Running a Chass Club inside Dept of Conrect Sec 2C 2000 Sent out a Copy of 118 to the visiting Room with Scott (14), Told him to give it to who ever is in the visiting room.

2:25 Got some good articles out the Newspaper. Use them in my Mailings.

1:45 The increditable Sleeping quand is in the POD. Gaux officer Hines a copy of the 118 I supmitted to Mr O'Neill. Secrets will not block Tustice. But things you do in the bark always comes out in the light of day. and I got alot to say:

o'copm Bored to death. Gave (4) a copy of the 118 to pass to an inmater while he was on his visit. Said he gave it to a Dread in a Red Jumper. Probably (3D) or C. Gonna get copies all over the institution and Sorce them to deal with the situation. Write the FBI william and Graphic Imaging this weekend , and Barry Glazar, 10:31 pm Got "Letter" Son FBI ready with 3 118's dated 2/12/2011 Mr O'Neill 2/17/2011 Dr Tabin and 5/5/2011 and Classification Ms Green 3/30/2011. Don't 5/8/2011 anyong to say I lest then out of the loop.

5120 asked for a Soft and a 200 complaint form. Waking us up every a hours is sleep deprivation and since they don't want to deal with this justly I'm goma address the policy in a Federal Court. LF Dixion told me to address this issue on this shift. So I am.

GIS Been waiting on a Sqt and Lt since 2:30 am. No 200 Sorm was given to me. I wrote a 1/8 as instructed by Lt Dixion and handed it directly to Ossiear Preznchuk so nobody can say I didn't Sallow protocal.

11:35 Let the POD officer read the material I'm sending to the FBI don't want anyone to say I did anything behind their backs 12:45pm Just Sinished my "Letter" to the FB1. 21ong with the 118's that this institution refuses to address. Barry Glazer too! 1º.15 Got the address for Dr Rifkin new owner of North Oaks Finished my "Letter" to Barry Glazer, Need a Civil lawyer to file a lawsuit.

8:15 Lt Luckatt told me he would get me a 200 Sorm tonight.
I won't hold my breath. But he said I can not be redused.

10:31 I got the 200 Sorm. and I made the Cpl sign it. Talk about pissed ass. Kanno is heated. Put in another 118 just because.

5/9/2011 5:20 Just Sinished making 4 handwritten copies of the 118 Sorms. and I have 5 envelopes to mail out this week. 49 days till my trial. So I'll Keep myself busy by writting and getting my message out. I haven't decided who I'm gonna mail these 118 out to yet. I think one will go to the Federal Public Defenders Office. and see what that Turns up. Gonna Sill out the 200 Sorm and send it outside the Sacility and make Mr O'Neill answer it Srom a deSensive stand point. Look for the address to the Chinnese Embassy in Washington D.C. Make it an international Issue like it should be. Human Rights Violations Let the World see what the american Judicial System is Really Like. Expose the Cash Cow Prision Industry for Who Ewhat they are. Justice Sor sale pay for it or go to Jail. Grands are Mad at me. Watching me from the POD wondering who E what I'm writting about Kanno reminds me of Sampson the Gorilla at the Milwankee Zoo. He wasn't laughing when I was talking to Lt Luckett or when the Cpl bought me that 200 form. He needs to lose his job. all he does is sit on the phone and try to piss the inmotes off. I love pissing people off. The look on his face 18 Priceless last night. How much for the Gorilla in the Window. Magilla Gorilla for sale.

Sioo Am Nodoles is writing a 118 on Kanno today. Mine went in last night. Gonna sand a "Letter" to the Federal Public Defender office 6:15 Just Sinished my "Latter" to the Chief Federal Public Defenders office 1005 Charles St Bult Md. Time to go to sleep and see what today brings ma.

2:00pm Got up writting. Taking quotes from "Letters of a Nation" Martin Luther Kings Jr "Letter Groom a Birmingham Jail" 3:55 Kanno aint here today. Got another african to take his Placer We spoke to each other and made myself clear. Respect me and I'll corespond you. Officer Reed was checking other cells but I am not to be played with. Play with you Kids or go play with some toys. Comma lain La mont mo Or simply Losiseme almos

Earlier the transport officer that took me to Spring Growe Came in my cell. He saw my youtube page. He said some of (109) my vidgos have been taken down. 6.45 OKOME is alot better than Kanno Today is alot better than yesterday. Nice and smooth. It is going to the Montal hospital and @ went home. Probably getting drunk. To each his own. FBI got their "Letter" today. 11:40 pm Wrote (B) points from Martin Luther King Jr's Letter from a Birminghan Jail " I have to return the Book "Letters of a Nation" to the Library on Wadnesday. Boarn doing some mentoring to @ & swell. Took me a hot shower earlier. No one has responded to my mail or 1185. They are really trying to make me give up a time is on my side. and I want a trial to clear my name. and show everyone I proctice what I proach . Thing will, will be some. I made a promise, and I am a Man of my word. 11:58 Sqt afungo just delivered ma my response to Complaint form # COO452. and he oldn't look to happy. and they side stepped alot of my issues. Especially the missing property and my mail. They are trying to cover their ass but it's alittle late for that. They won't put me in population. So I'll does with them from 8:36 Sick. Price was sickley this morning. Show also said the medical dopt should surnish immates with a print out of the side e Steeds of the medication they are taking and told me that @ inmates can request the written insormation about the medication the are taking side effects and addication.

9:15 pm I called 410 324-8938 Public Defender office.

Just to prove that the Public Defender works with the States alternay to dany due process faqual protection under the laws of the United States Constitution.

2:30 Back From Library. and I got a "Letter" From Mr O'Neill he seems somewhat pissed off. Carled the Public Defenders office twice today. They want answer. Check phone records. 4:00pm Sat is in the Bubble. Immeter from 2D is complaining about Cpl Gamble. They aint gonna let me find out the just of the complaint or conversation.

6:10 Gave a DC cell 1) my 118 Sorms to look over and send to 3 Risas Ct Cockeys uille Md. 21030. Should get it by Fri (Set. Barry Glazer got his today and the FBI too.

Gock earlier because he filed a complaint against Hanno. They bought him back and pulled a cell search on him. Took his extra mattresses and they don't say nothing to him. It have a mattresses and they don't say nothing to him. It have a mattress and Cpl Miller told me of he ask for would I give it up. I told him yes. They are very petty and use the Rule book when it serves their purpose or defends their supressive actions.

(5) Told them I'm prisoner's advocate and inmate Know over the facility as well as the staff. And they Know I how to handel my B1Z-Ness. O'Neill wishes he could le

In say but he can't put me there without a reason. He won't put me in population because I ancourage inmates to stand up for thomselves. and they listen to me. Guards have viewed my Facebook and youtube pages and they know how I get Sown-Igo hard. So O'Naill just has to weather the storm. Got a class action lawsuit coming their way. and I'm going Oo it right in their face. Raw no trojans man. Taking Journ addresses for Publishing Companies and gonna ask my Strends at Graphic Imaging to forward copies of my Book Minority report. My lawyer has my Second book Taithouse diary. So I'm in a good place. He more days till my trial. So we'll see who the Coward is . and the video's as well as them Toilets are going fill the Courtroom, Gonna find the address to See is we can televise my trial. Court TV. Got alot of In matics that have Stories to tell. 1400 inmates and they want their voices to beheard.

Siloam Since Mr B'Neill gave me a "Letter" telling me to address my issues in the Court I'm gonna contact Judge Turnbull. Put everything right in his lap. The everyone into the situation that is involved. Tried to Show Oslicer Taylor my 118's and my "Letter" From Mr O'Neill and he said "He don't wan Fit!" all the guards were reading my 118's in Feb-Mar but when Opril & May came around it wasn't formy anymore. Told them I was writting a book and it gonna leave alot of these incividals all the way shook. Gonna be a long Letter and I'm gonna use the 11:15 Got mail from Gov Office. and it's all good he sent the video to my lawyer. I let the PDD officer read the mail from white House & God O'Malley? Go back to sleap.

2:15 Ms Green came by to see ma. Gave me a phone call to my wife. Told me Dr Tobin works for the Court. and is going to check into property about my missing "Letters" and contact information. Phillip was in the Hospital. They got my "Letters" and she sent me some money this week and gonne send me some more next week. So I'll be able to keep writing "Letters" and advocating for the inmates. Hopemy lawyer comes to see me and brings the Toilet Photos with him. Everything is Salling into place. If the FBI returns my information this is gonna be a done deal. I wish I could see O'Nail's face when he read my 118 response. I got a phone Number For a lawye that likes to Sue. Gonna contact him later or Friday.

3:00pm Lock down. (4) dismantled (3) cell. Boys will be boys.

5 12 2011

5:16 Up and at it. Gave Officer Taylor my packet from Gov Advocately Office. Saw "Letters" from Whitehouse.

5:35 OSicar Nalson did a room chack told me sha's gonna take my Mattress if she needs. Told her fine. Is she took it I's get another one.

6:05 Just wrote a 118 to piss O'Noill off. Told you I ama Proffessine!

Pisser offer. Made a handwritten copy so I can send it to other O people (inmates.

10:29 Made 2 copies to send to other people. Don't want nobody to 11:15 Commisery. They keep messing up my order. and then talk Crazy to you because

(113)

12:45 Just called Bailbondsman 410 400-5585. Said he would post my Bail told him to call my lawyer Thomas Saundars and Charlie Stokes or Ms Drane will sign for me.

2:35 Just Put the 118 into the Librarian and Mr O'Neill. Now I'll wait for the response or the return of my information. Today

5/14/2011 (44) day left. Officer Stateton came in for bed chack last night.
Said she's related to NFL Soothall player in Texas. Injury she he comment was something like they don't want you to he can fatable. Their the herabanks playering mater and be confortable. This the bedchecks, slamming doors , and Clammering doors Keep up all night. The Medical dept Miss Diana openly stated that the Second is garbages during her weekly walk through.

6:15 am Not happy unless Im pissing someone off. So I sent a 118 to Shift Commander & Mr O'Neill. I'm only allow 2 118 per shift. So I use the all up everyday Im hore. Misery loves company. Im gonna make them as miserable as I am. Gonna lock them up minus the bars. Gonna get a daily dose of Shorty until I get my Freedom.

6:30 Got mail from my lawyer, go over it later.

11:50 Called Mark adams Barkbandsman 410 400-5555. Sand my lawyer hasn't esponded to his call. Told him to call Margaret to give him Dianes phone # and Charlie Stokes phone # they might sign for me. He kild me about the man that took video glasses into the Courthouse. I had it in my 12:30 Writting FBI another "Letter" to release everything to my lawyer and turn my som in as a Drug dealer, Told mem I'll testify told them where to go and what to do.

1:55 Put the "Letter" in the Box along with the 118's and newspaper Clippining. Gorna see if Jake can do some time and if he is gonne take his Striands to Jail with him. I want Darlene and him to go to jail. Federal Jail 10-15 years. He wanted to be Shorty. Let's see is he can walk in my Shoes. Write my lawyer later.

Isob Got a' Letter ' Srom Phillip. Good to hear from him.

Sicopon Call Bails Bendsman. 2D inmate told me that Charlie is gonna 7:00pm a Dinnote told me to call Bails Bondman at 9:00m. Sinday. Not going hold my breath.

15:30 Re Read Phillips "Lelfa"

11:45 Lights Out Sinished Reading the Chapter of the Chicago Campaign We need to reinstitute Operation Bredd Basket. Empower our people and the Communities we are living in

5.20 All about change. 43 days till Judgement Day. Did my daily cut outs of the Newspaper clipping. New to get rid of this pailhouse Good. The "Letter" from my lawyer didn't mention anything about the 335 hours of film I had in the Box in my living Room. Destroying Evidence, obruction of Justice, 15 against the law and the officers in my house need to be held accountable. Everyone Saw the video tapes on youtube. I see that Gou O'Malley put his brother in Charge of Chief of staff for the Mayor. O'Mallay is the Same as DC Staugnson. and his politics are a MIrmr Imana.

Sighting against the Machine is not an easy task when so many people are in his pockets. Baltimora Sun won't run no stories about me or print myside of the story. and my lawyer wants me to Stay clear of the media. They used the Media to paint this Pletura of a Crazy Black man. So why can't I use the Media to tell the Truth "Me Emy lawyer agree on something and disagree on others but this is my case my trial my like. So were gonna do it my way. Constitution says that I have a Right to legal councel to aick and assist in my defense. Im facing sailtime not him. He's had material to clear me for awhile now. and won't get the material From the FBI Judge Pierson Carl Snowdan Judge Turnbull Shallenberger or Gou O'Malley, Put them out there and seg what happens then. Blot of material is being excluded from my case. and me and my lawyer need to have a sit down. Kob has Soctage and victos since all mine sust vanished. Now I have to backtrack and get all the videos I put out on the Streets. Barber Shop Café and regular people. My External Harddrive is missing too. So there are alot more questions than answers. But the Truth always comes to the light. Gonna go laydown. Get up at 9:00 and write my "Letter" to my lawyer.

6:30 Made à 118 up for Mr O'Neill is Iget out on bail. 2 capies

8:25 Cpl came to give me papers to sign. In getting out. World bearing San Sair. Or crowds of people cheering my release. Only the rain Salling down on me. Washing the ills of a racial Judicial System from soul. and cleansing my spirit. Taking the Stench of slavery from my Body. I read parts of Spike Lea That's my Story and I'm Sticking toit" Muhammad Ali Through the Eyes of the World. and I read the Chapter of the Chiego Campaign of The Autobiography of Martin Luther King Jr. Editad by Clayborne Carson. Those book were my took to endure the countless and sometime andless days of loneliness & daspair. But Book I most enjoyed was "Letters of a Nation" Edited by andrew Carroll foreword by Marian Wright Edelman. I read pages 208 to206 countless times. Those pages gave me what I need to Shape my Suture and give Validity to the Social Struggle of Legalized Slavery in America. Our Judicial System. So now it's time to Jinish what I started. Whistle Blowers det. and the names are genna shake up the Political Scena this year. Baltimore Re Wired. The Man The Money The Myth. O'Malley and his Political Machine. Wagonna see how this all plays out. But today I'm gonna do "Sherty" 9:40 Just dropped off my 125t 118" to this institution. 25king for my "10 Letters" back from the Library.
